Magazine Embrace the world of flamenco as you explore the music of Chris Burton Jcome. The powerful compositions in this collection communicate the passion of a land of extremes. With poignant melodies, and provocative rhythms listeners will find themselves carried away into a world of emotion and sound.

You will have no choice but to surrender. Rarely is an artist so capable of capturing the essence of a musical tradition and then leaving his own innovative mark upon it. Embracing the tradition of flamenco, lacing it with his own love of life and presenting this new interpretation through composition is this musician's greatest gift to the listener. It is apparent that Jcome is himself, captivated. Open yourself to the experience. Allow yourself to become enchanted as these soulful compositions unfold. BIO: Chris Burton Jcome began playing guitar in 1986. While living in Sevilla, Spain, Chris studied flamenco guitar with some of the greatest flamenco performers of this era including: Miguel Aragn, Manolo Franco, Juan del Gastor, Juan Amador, Juana Amaya, Enrique Robles, Segundo Falcn and Cristo "El Francs." Chris has played many sold-out solo performances and has worked alongside great artists in the U.S. such as

Carlota Santana's Spanish Dance Company (New York), Tania Tandias (Wisconsin), Caminos

currently the musical director for the largest flamenco company in the United States, Calo Flamenco with over 22 members, Chris writes the music and performs with this Broadway-ready flamenco show. Chris'

debut CD, Motivacin, received this comment from Scott Barker of Tucson Lifestyle Magazine, "Chris

"Motivacin" finished in the Top 10 in the John Lennon Songwriting Contest World Music Category. Out of 25,000 entries! Chris' second album, "Pa'lante", was just as well received: "Pa'lante is an astonishing release from a flamenco artist filled with passion, life and peace. Do yourself a favor and treat yourself and friends with a copy of Pa'lante by Chris Burton Jcome" -(Maurice E.O.M.) "Highly recommended for fans of flamenco, nuevo flamenco, world music, or well-executed and recorded guitar music in general" -(Guitar Nine Records) Chris' music can be heard on the Emmy Award Winning PBS television special: "Flamenco", (broadcast in Arizona by KAET-TV Channel 8: Mike Saucedo, producer). Chris' flamenco version of the Christmas Classic, "Joy to the World", was included in Coldwater Creek Catalogue's 2004 Christmas CD. Chris will also soon be heard as the featured soloist in the movie soundtrack of "9/tenths". To see a trailer for this film, go to 9tenths.com. The month of April, 2005 marked the release of Chris' 4th album entitled, "Flamenco". "Flamenco" is an exciting new work eliciting reviews like "Jcome's gorgeous, evocative compositions are a testament to his abilities as a writer and performer..."-(Get Out! Magazine's Chris Hansen) and "An extraordinary and fresh-sounding, passionate album..."-(SlipcueJune 2005).
