Details: Richard D@silets is a composer that creates universal and accessible new music. Its music reflects the experiences and observations perceived by the musician in his life and the existence of others. It is a journey through contemplative and experimental music. It is a search for inner peace in a world created to achieve spiritual realizations. Open to the world, Richard's compositions contain sonorities played from multi-ethnic instruments remote as those found in ancient Greece, Africa or Asia. Its works involves sounds of electronic instruments and instrumental orchestral sounds sampled. Eclectic, one recognizes in his compositions the influences of worldbeat, jazz, opera, pop, electronic and contemporary music. Inspired by the culture of each time and style, it creates some original and surprising music easy to appreciate.
