Related styles: CLASSICAL: Choral Music, POP: Pop Details: Having enhanced the art of choral music for a phenomenal 70 seasons, The Louisville Chorus is the longest-thriving most frequently performing choral arts agency in Kentuckiana and surrounding states also exceeding the longevity of opera, ballet, and theatre in the area. As well, within the realm of major arts agencies, The Louisville Chorus is only two years younger than The Louisville Orchestra. The Louisville Chorus has filmed concerts for international broadcast on EWTN, the largest religious media network in the world and has recorded music for Hollywood in the making of movies. The Louisville Chorus is also a member of Chorus America and has had music chosen for nationwide broadcast on the first nationally distributed radio series to focus exclusively on the art of choral music performance. A professional chorus of auditioned singers, The Louisville Chorus annually thrills audiences with the widest in varietal repertoire from choral masterworks with orchestra to pops, children-oriented, Broadway, and even Bluegrass; releases professional commercial CDs; performs regularly with other arts agencies, including annual involvement with young artists at the Youth Performing Arts School; presents annual benefit shows for charitable organizations; offers its own very active season of concerts and events; and performs for arts series and outreach opportunities throughout Kentuckiana. Fostering the choral art form since 1939 and boasting the expertise of Artistic Director S. Timothy Glasscock, The Louisville Chorus exudes character, vitality, integrity in the Arts! Tags: pop
