A melting pot of beautiful acoustic dream pop and trans-electro beats 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Gentle, ELECTRONIC: Ambient Details: Sometimes its the quiet ones that you have to watch out for, like a faint whisper in your ear that makes the hairs stand up on your neck. This Unique Museum is the brainchild of Ben Fitton, mixing the emotive sounds of heart-felt acoustic guitar with the ambient beats of electronic dream pop, creating something truly moving whilst holding onto something the listener can relate to. The album, "A Collection of Short Stories" is the first to be released on a label, and is a melting pot of beautiful acoustic and trans-electro beats. The album not only touches on the softer side of life but is awash with a blissful melancholic glow. There is such diversity in this album that it could not fail to be one of the best loved breakthrough albums by anyone who takes the time to listen. This being the case, it comes as no surprise to learn that "This Unique Museum" has also achieved a much desired position of being one of XFM's best unsigned bands The debut single to be taken from the album will be the track "Iris (The Best Part Of The Year)" and will be released on 30th October 2006. The release, in conjunction with Myspace, will be in the format of a free digital download featuring exclusive artwork and a cover of The Postal Service track "Brand New Colony"
