Here are some extracts from their website (WWW.SKAMP.LT) at the time of recording: SKAMP About Their Recordings in London!!!! 2003-12-15 SKAMP have announced the first results from their stay in London working with the production, management and publishing company GMW Entertainment. The group spent 2 weeks in Terminal studio (terminal) and ended up with 6 new songs. We worked with quite a few people and everyone got on really well. With Jez Coad (who has produced for Dutch pop Diva Erikah Karst, Andrew Strong The Commitments and Redhed) we wrote and recorded 2 tracks Wont let u down and Runaway. The Na, na, na Song was written with Sean Kelly who has written songs for Simple Minds, Lisa Loeb and had songs placed in movies like, Legally Blonde. With Jon Kingsley Hall and George Stewart we did Calling after me and Talkin about Love which really stand out. Jon & George have written and produced tracks for Kosheen, Simple Minds, Tina Turner and many more. They had their own band in the eighties called Kissing The Pink. There was a good atmosphere with everyone and it was our first real stay in London so we did a bit of sightseeing as well explained Vee. SKAMP On The GMW Writers Week! 2003-12-15 SKAMP also took part in the third GMW writers week that takes place every six months. Its a writing session where writers and producers from different publishing companies all over the world get together to write and record songs for various projects. That was our first experience of such writing sessions and we learned a lot as songwriters. Once GMW realized we were staying on a week they hooked us up with Bobby Huff from Nashville and we ended up writing and recording the song Gave it all in his hotel room. The next day we recorded my vocals in George Martins (Beatles manager) studio. We also wrote a very optimistic tune called Better days with Stuart Brown. Weve got a lot more work to do with recording the new album and seeing the response we get but so far its been really great... "SKAMP" - 1) an abbreviation of the Lithuanian word 'Savas Kampas' which means 'your niche'. 2) a wicked band in Lithuania. Since 1998 SKAMP have reigned as one of the best live acts in Lithuania as well as The Baltic's. They're best known for kick-ass concerts and fusing together various styles of music to create their own eclectic cocktail. Over the years the trio have garnered many awards including Best Debut (1999), Best Band (2000, 2001, 2004 2005) and Best Album (2000, 2001 2004) while Erica has won "Best Female Artist" (2001 2002) and Vee has won "Best Producer" (2000). SKAMP have opened for international acts like "The Black-Eyed Peas", "Macy Gray", "Kraftwerk" and Germany's own "5 Sterne Deluxe" among others and the band have toured and played at festivals all over Europe and America. In August the new video for their latest tune "Reach" was premiered on the very first "MTV Making The Video" programme on MTV Baltic, they had the first "MTV LIVE" programme air their "SKAMP - Live&Deadly" concert which is now out on DVD and it was the first time an entire week was dedicated to one band. While the new video "Reach" currently has heavy rotation on MTV Baltic, SKAMP are currently writing and recording a brand new album due out in 2008. Stay Tuned. skamponline
