Delray is The Real Deal he's a platinum songwriter. He's Hot the music says the rest. 13 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Hip Hop, URBAN/R&B: R&B Rap mix Details: From The Streets, To The Rhymes, To The Beats. Delray began singing and entertaining his family and friends at the age of six. It wasn't until he was a young teenager that Delray began performing for neighbors in the Harbor House Projects. Delray, with his friend, Reds, would hang out on the corner of Madison Street in Annapolis, Maryland. Armed with two turntables, a doctor rhythm drum machine, microphones, and beat break records, Reds made the beats, while Delray sang and wrote his heart out. Both were trying to make a name for themselves. Eventually, they called themselves "The M.O.B." for Most Outstanding Brothers. A year later, Delray and Reds still struggled to create tape after tape but by then they had a growing number of fans who continued to inspire and support them. Delray's talents drew the attention of those who could appreciate good quality music. It was on those street corners that they battled against other crews who were into singing, rapping, break dancing and beat boxing. In 1994, a fortunate turn of events occurred when Delray moved to Los Angeles at the suggestion of a friend. With twenty dollars in his pocket, Delray took off to Los Angeles never doubting that he made the right decision. In 1999 Delray's first album "Pay Close Attention" was published by DelFunkBoy Music, Inc. (ASCAP) which is now considered an independent classic. The second album "Who Would've Thought" Part-2 is hot and won the L.A. Music Award for best hip hop R&B album. The new album Robinwood To Hollywood- An Intellectual Property is crazy hot feat. R&B diva Lina on 2 songs. All songs were written and produced by Delray and Jeeve for Paperwork Productions except where noted. To add to his accomplishments, in 2000-01 2003-04, Delray was honored for Outstanding Performance in the Hip Hop and R&B Category at the 10th 13th Annual L.A. Music Awards. Delray's song "This Lovin Of Mine" was featured in the MGM film, "Deal of A Lifetime" with
