The ambient chill artists stunned and pleased with all four previous albums, but the latest release, entitled 'Flight of the Urubus' is something of an awakening experience in itself. Recorded in Brazil and Dorset, the album reveals the beauty of the Entheogenic realms and takes you on a journey through the divine dimensions. This peek into the souls of the creators is at times funky and upbeat, whilst being chilled enough to be a perfect accompaniment to meditation, journeying and healing. The vibration has been raised with gentle vocals from the guys themselves along with their talented use of home made samples, making you feel as though you are at all times nurtured by nature herself and lovingly transported into beautiful realms of twisting vines and opening flowers.
