Elegant and sophisticated, romantic and nostalgic, a beautiful blend of blues and jazz, with a touch of gospel. 13 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Smooth Jazz, EASY LISTENING: Mood Music Details: WHAT THE ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY IS SAYING ABOUT IN A SENTIMENTAL MOOD Beegie Adair, Jazz Pianist and renowned Recording Artist for Village Square Records, a Steinway Artist, and Composer says: Ron has a wonderful sense of harmony and is quite a fine pianist. This album is a lovely collection of some of Rons best ballads, both romantic and nostalgic, and its a great introduction to some really fine piano music. Have dinner, open a bottle of wine, sit back and relax, and let Ron put you in a mellow mood. You will enjoy this album. I do Roger Spencer, Co-founder and Director for the Nashville Jazz Workshop, and Bassist, says: Ron Brownings style is reminiscent of several great pianists. It encompasses the intellect of Duke Ellington and the elegance of Hank Jones; the quirkiness of Thelonius Monk and the melancholy of Bill Evans. This recording shows an artist who is deep and multi-faceted. I truly enjoy this music and hope to hear more from pianist Ron Browning in the future. Jeff Steinberg, Pops Conductor for the Nashville Symphony and Other Orchestras, composer, arranger, and producer, says: Every pianist has their own recipe when it comes to the standards, and Rons is a delightful concoction: a little blues, a little gospel, but all jazz. But you dont even have to own a piano to enjoy this collection. Everyone will. And my compliments to the chef! Lori Mechem, Jazz Pianist and Recording Artist for Village Square Records, Composer, Co-Founder and Director of the Nashville Jazz Workshop, says: Ron Brownings cd is a blend of sheer elegance and divine style, just like the sophistication of Duke Ellington. His choice of repertoire and supreme musicality is well premiered in this cd. I am very glad to have been a part of convincing Ron to record this project and hope that you love his music as much as I do. RONS STYLE Ron is a very spirited and passionate pianist. There is something very special in his touch that soothes the soul. His harmonies are lush, his melodies are hauntingly beautiful, his improvisational interpretations of these standards have the angels singing and the devils entertained all at the same time. There is a mystique about his approach to playing in general that stops the listener and forces them to mellow, whether or not they are lovers of jazz and even if they don't know these tunes. It's a beautiful experience for the listener and the experience moves beyond the music itself.

BRIEF BIOGRAPHY A native of Vicco (Eastern KY), Ron Browning has been immersed in both performing and fine arts since childhood. His educational background includes a BME in voice and piano from the University of Kentucky, post-graduate studies and teaching credentials from University of California at Northridge, and a Professional Designation of Recording Arts and Sciences at UCLA. Ron currently resides in Nashville, TN. Ron is a jazz pianist and is presently a recording artist for Alliant Music Group. As a vocal coach, his students range from major recording artists, such as Wynonna Judd, to star attractions on subscription series, to acts for Vegas showrooms. He also grooms singers for their very first public performance and works with all genres of music. As a singer, Ron has recorded with the legendary H.B. Barnum in Hollywood, famous for producing and/or doing arrangements for artists like Aretha Franklin, Gladys Knight, the Supremes, Frank Sinatra and Etta James. Some of Ron's TV and radio credits include The Mike Douglas Show, PM Magazine, Hollywood Celebrity Telethons, Kiss radio, as well as many TV and radio shows throughout KY, and TN. As a songwriter, his achievements include hits with RCA, special writing assignments for Paramount Television, a dance suite for the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, an original long-running musical in Los Angeles, and orchestrations and incidental music for Franklin Lacey, co-author of The Music Man. Ron is presently writing a vocal method text based on his work and the seminars that he does both locally and across the country. He is on staff at the Nashville Jazz Workshop.
