It's not often that I get chills within the first few seconds of the opening cut. Rick Altizer's "Go Nova" is that kind of album. (So, what are you doing still sitting there? Get on the ball and grab this disc!) "A" Rating - Spotlight Review Dave Urbanski, Youthworker "Rick Altizer's "Go Nova," is perhaps his best work yet. The guy needs to get recognized as what he is - an amazing all around artist. "Go Nova" is a winner." John Thompson, True Tunes "The problem with originality in pop music is that it sometimes falls through the cracks. Artists with a fresh perspective are forced to choose between art or popularity. Few can have both. Case in point, Rick Altizer. He's great. His modern pop songs have lush, almost orchestral rock band arrangements, fabulous harmonies, wonderful guitar work and melodies that bounce around in your head long after you've turned off the CD player. But there are also unexpected twists, sudden left turns, wonderfully angular chord progressions and smart lyrics. Altizer's latest album is a quirky pop delight. "Go Nova" is definitely one for the collection. Go buy! Chris Well, 7ball " A terrific work of a one-man musical symphony. Again, Altizer has proven that he is a worthy candidate to be poster-child for "consistency in quality song-writing." L. Jeanette Strole, HM Magazine "Rick Altizer is a one-man music machine. "Go Nova" proves again what many of us already knew: Rick Altizer is a talented artist." Wendy Lee Nentwig, CCM Magazine "With each album this guy just keeps getting better. Some have called Altizer an unsung musical genius and shared their hopes that he might single-handedly save the banality of the CCM scene someday. Now with three increasingly impressive albums under his belt, he's certainly off to a good start. If sufficient word gets out about this little engine, don't be surprised to find it deservingly flirting with a lot of Top Ten lists at year's end." 5 out of 5 stars - The Phantom Tollbooth
