His debut independent release Off The Hook is an album that takes a hard look at what life is really about and stays away from the cliches of Hip-Hop music. He is not afraid of opinions that say he is too real and too honest. In fact in today's society he hopes his realness will show the youth of today a message of hope. Sir Grogan has been in hip-hop music since age 13, and in 1995 he formed Floetry-a group that received high praise by the Oklahoma City indie scene. Sir Grogan is the real deal and his life speaks a message of a real relationship with Jesus Christ, not just a phony man-made religion. If I don't do music for Jesus and his message, then what is the point? says Sir Grogan. I want people to enjoy my music, but more importantly I want them to really get my message.
