Crumb had been a brilliant hillbilly musician, his stuff might have sounded like this. M. Smith, Real Estate Developer, LA, CA Roaring out of Texarkana, Arkansas, Travis Whitelaws id-driven country-rock music tells tawdry tales of roadside massage parlors, casino hookers, and derriere obsession, all while boasting more hooks than a butchers meat locker. Listeners will find themselves blushing and singing along. Brash, bold, uncompromising, never afraid to take a stand especially against the arbiters of political correctness and good taste the "Rockin' Redneck" delivers these take-no-prisoners epics with all the subtlety of a semi loaded with hog feed crashing a toll gate. And that's just the ballads.
