oldschool videogame music meets tango, techno and polka. i guess. 15 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, WORLD: Polka Details: i'm an independent game developer. i do art direction and animation for the behemoth! all of my influences in music are combined in the songs i write. it happens automatically - can't help it! THANK YOU reviewers! glad you enjoyed it!! SIDENOTE: track 2: "fatcamp" is not playing properly in the PREVIEW ONLY. not sure why but the melody is not kicking in halfway through the preview file. i've ordered a couple CDs and it works fine on the actual CD but the preview file itself is busted.  fun fact: I chose the name "watermelon" because that's what choir singers say when they forget the words to things. I didn't know what to say during the song so I said watermelon and it worked out. Those choir singers know what's up I guess!
