It's a comprehensive and variegated work, the sound is always rich and powerful, inspiring many sensations and difficult to categorise. Moves from dark atmospheres to classic vibes to electronic sounds with class and personality. 12 MP3 Songs POP: British Pop, ELECTRONIC: Chill out Show all album songs: Toilet Clues Collecting Songs Details: Lolamog was formed in January 2006. In April that very same year, the song "All around you" is on the air on Radio Rai Uno (the first Italian public radio network), during the program DEMO. Due to the good response the band returned to DEMO for an interview in their studios in Rome, as part of a special broadcast. In June 2006 the band wins the competition "Per un minuto ti vorrei" organised by Radio Capital (the first Italian private radio network). As the undisputed winners, they are invited to a live show on air. In the following months the band plays their first live gigs and completes the work around the debut album Toilet Clues Collecting which was out in November 2007. This album was entirely produced by the band and is available to buy online. Toilet Clues Collecting has been defined as "comprehensive and variegated work, which would deserve a place on the international stage. The songs are original and brilliantly interpreted by Lilium, the sound is always rich and powerful, inspiring many sensations and difficult to categorise. Toilet Clues Collecting moves from dark atmospheres to classic vibes to electronic sounds with class and personality, reaching some excellent moments in the exotic rhythms highlighted by the evocative vocals of Ahmad Maher and reminds in parts of the best that Depeche Mode has left to us". Between the guest appearances on the album, Stefano Brandoni's guitar work (Grignani, Renga, Nannini, Dolcenera) deserves a special mention. The band is now looking for an adequate label that could distribute and promote their work in Northern Europe.
