With his unique musical style harmonizing Humanity and Nature, Mathieu has garnered a faithful following who are enthralled with his powerful rhythms. Influenced by the rhythms of the world, Mathieu's music takes us on a journey to far away places. His story 11 MP3 Songs POP: Folk Pop, WORLD: World Fusion Details: Mathieu D'Astous grew up in Moncton, N.B. Like most Francophones living in Acadie he had the opportunity to learn two languages, and thus to compose and sing in both English and in French.. At the age of 18 Mathieu joined Zéro Celsius, a bilingual organic rock quintet. He played bass, sang and composed numerous songs for the group. Zero performed throughout Canada and Europe, including the 1994 edition of Slovakia's Rock Pop Bratislava music festival, the 1996 edition of the Printemps de Bourges festival in France as well as the Rock sans Frontière festival in Montreal and Quebec City. Mathieu also contributed to various recordings, including Pet-Kout-Koy-Ek : Songs for a River (Indie, 1996) , and Contes du Coude/Tales from the Bend (Groundswell/Warner Canada, 1995). With an urge to travel and to explore the sounds of world music, Mathieu played his last show with Zéro Celsius in December 1996. Since then, he has released several demos and played a variety of shows in New-Brunswick, Quebec and abroad, including les Francofolies de Montréal (2003) and the Festival International de la Louisiane (Lafayette, 2003). Influenced by the rhythms of the world, Mathieu's music takes us on a journey to far away places. His storytelling lyrics are fueled by cultural collisions, nature's beautiful chaos, and the mysteries of travel. His first studio album entitled Ada was launched in July 2002. Over twenty musicians from the Moncton area contributed to the project. These include, Tim Isaac (Isaac and Blewett), Chris Mersereau (Sol, El Fuego), Jac Gautreau (ECMA Producer Les Mchants Maquereaux) and Les Paiens. In 2006 Mathieu released his new CD called "Les Meandres" and presented his music across Canada.
