Detonating beats in a cinescopic soundscape layered with dub rhythms and plenty of Sci-Fi atmosphere. 9 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, ELECTRONIC: Trip Hop Details: The dub/trip-hop production team Otaku came together in San Francisco in 1998, originally to soundtrack an art exhibition comprising alien artifacts. The production duo had been covertly recording for several years, utilizing the reams of samples collected on their hard drives as well as their growing mixing skills. Influenced by earthy beat-oriented scenes from hip-hop, dub, the Orb, and Brooklyn's illbient scene, the pair recorded Bitwise Operators and released it on the Malvado label in mid-2000.
