A straightforward production of lyrics and instrumentation of skillful and talented characteristics, Rick Leichman has written and produced this CD with consideration to his listeners, by delivering songs that are simply easy to relate to and memorable. These songs suitably feel good and sound great. "Every note, solo and background instrument has a purpose, which is to compliment the melody by supporting it, not dominating it." Acoustic and electric guitars, keyboards, bass, drums, woodwinds, violins, and percussion all play a dynamic vital part emphasizing his musical direction. His arrangements elevate the sincerity of the lyric and intensifies the melody. The sweet guitars he plays delivers a distinctively unique sound applying the complexity of harmonizing chords to obtain the richness and fullness, supporting his clean and refreshing style of music. "Listening to music for the pure enjoyment of it is simply good for my creative soul. The end result is what comes out of me creatively."
