A six man hot-damn hootenanny which brings together traditional bluegrass, Appalachian folk music, classic country, alt-country and some rock tunes done old-timey style. 6 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Bluegrass, FOLK: Traditional Folk Details: "... experiencing the Dust Bowl Cavaliers is like an infectuous high that never goes away! They are irresistable performers and incredible musicians." - Erica Lane Saylor (Moondance International Film Festival Director) The Dust Bowl Cavaliers is a six man hot-damn hootenanny which brings together traditional bluegrass, Appalachian folk music, classic country, alt-country and some rock tunes done old-timey style. The group's repertoire has grown to more than forty numbers, including old-timey songs like "Down on Penny's Farm" and "New River Train", early country hits such as "Folsom Prison Blues" and "Hey, Good Lookin'" and even string band versions of tunes by U2 and the Flaming Lips. The DBC live shows are exciting, spontaneous, and often pretty darn funny (all the boys in the band do improv in various LA comedy groups). The Dust Bowl Cavaliers are already working on Volume 2 and are performing regularly throughout Southern California.
