Smooth Jazz with a gospel, hip hop feel 9 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Smooth Jazz, JAZZ: Free Jazz Details: It has been a long road for Andre Hoxter since his early days in Boston, Massachusetts back to his hometown in Wilmington, Delaware. First establishing himself at the Howard Career Center under the direction of Lonnie Thomas as a bassist. The Howard High jazz band played at various local and national events. Andre also studied music at the Christina Culture Art Center under the watchful eye of Robert (Bosie) Lowery. These ventures found him moving to the Atlantic City area where he was a showcase musician for the Time Warner Music Division as a bassist and now a keyboard player as a minor. Andre's knowledge followed him to the Baltimore area, where he was a showcase musician again, this time for various ship events in the harbor. Here is where he formed the group Exclusive which moved him in the direction of producing, song writing and arranging. This third generation Adventist has allowed his faith and family to help keep him on course and make what was once a dream, a reality. Versed in gospel and jazz this quiet artist surely has talent worth letting to be heard to listeners from coast to coast. Andre started the Infinity project with some basic ideas that soon turned into a major project. Andre soon picked up sax man Jerry Blake. Jerry has played with a lot of major and local musicians, Andre said Jerry is a true professional with a kind heart. Andre also picked up vocalist Leonora Brown, AKA LEE a vocalist on the rise. Chuck Davis played live bass on Check This Out. Chuck and Andre were childhood friends. Andre said Chuck was there in the beginning. So sit back and get ready for a journey that will keep you coming back for an "Infinity"
