Details: The Blue James Band is an eclectic mix of skilled musicians who fortuitously came together in sunny Los Angeles in 2005. Together, their music blends technical prowess with tasteful melodic grooves. Mixing jazz, funk, reggae, and rock backgrounds, the band quickly clicked and hasn't stopped jamming since. Tour, tour, tour is this band's motto in 2006. Blue James Band has played up and down the West coast entertaining old fans while creating new ones. The band has gained widespread attention through their catchy, yet sophisticated, songs and engaging live performances. Their shows are packed with both discriminating listeners who appreciate outstanding musicianship as well as concert goers seeking a fun night of groove-based tunes. Excited by the success of their debut album That's That, the band is enjoying life on the road, expanding their territory and spreading their sound to new places. It's difficult to place Blue James Band in a genre. Their song structures are unique and often complex. They combine groove-oriented jams and melody-driven songs with loads of lyrical style. The music of Blue James Band can be sweet, at other times intense, but it is always engaging. Critics have described the Blue James Band as a musical joyride and a band that is best experienced live. Their shows consist of packed crowds singing, smiling and dancing. With their new album already making the rounds throughout the country, this is the band not to miss.
