A total psychedelic folk-hop experience inside the mind of Seth (aka Brother Machine), the one-man-band behind "no home in this world" 14 MP3 Songs POP: Beatles-pop, HIP HOP/RAP: Alternative Hip Hop Details: Brother Machine's music is hip-hop country punk; acoustic and electronic; a manic convergence of too many musical influences to fit one label. It is an unabridged cross section of the consciousness of its creator, Seth, who wrote, performed, recorded, mixed and mastered almost every sound on the record. 'No Home In This World' is not an album with two or three singles and a lot of filler. From the chopped and edited garage rock of track one, "I don't want you", to the ethereal farewell? of "Wake Up", the lyrics carry the music and the music carries the lyrics. Soul-Pop. Electro-Punk. Brother Machine could be hyphenated forever, so it's best you just get the record and find out.
