This album sounds like acoustic Tori Amos and Ben Folds sitting under the maple tree in the front yard, the orange and red leaves falling into small piles on our laps. 15 MP3 Songs POP: Piano, ROCK:

Acoustic Show all album songs: The Middle Songs Details: Eddie Cain Irvin from Buffalo, NY released his acoustic fourth CD, The Middle at the beginning of 2003 by flooding his high school with copies. He had spent many days of his senior year by rushing upstairs to work on the album after school. Completely forgetting about doing any sort of homework, Eddie experimented with meshing ordinary instruments with the unexpected. Piano and vocals, guitar, viola, violin and cello fill out the album with their comforting familiar timbres, complemented by use of his grandfathers old record player, a thumb piano, a singing bowl, voices of close family and friends among other original sounds. High school came to a brilliant end with Eddies performance of Lullaby at a concert for the senior class, and as a packed house rose to their feet with applause, he knew this was just the beginning of his musical life.
