Details: Frogg Marlowe has always been involved in the performing arts, from music to theater. Early on in Frogg's musical career he was involved in a jazz choir, which can still be heard in his vocals, and especially in acapella songs. Acquiring a harmonica soon followed, and Frogg spent many a night at the local venues combining the two. Even though most all his songs now include guitar, he has only been playing it for about five years. Frogg started playing in SL over a year ago, and thanks to all the support is still going strong. It's difficult to categorize Frogg's playing style, but it involves a lot of jazz, blues, and folk. These days, he is usually joined on stage by Jaycatt Nico, who started playing during his show breaks and now helps out with a wide variety of duets.
