Wayne is a five year old prodigy from the Bronzeville area on the south side of Chicago. From the first time his parents introduced the alphabet to him, Wayne's love for letters became unquenchable. While other infants were just learning to crawl, Wayne was already perfecting phonics. By the age of 3, preschools and day cares around the Chicagoland area were requesting Wayne's expertise as a letter pro. Wayne, with the help of his parents, soon began a tutorial program for toddlers. "I've always loved music; so, I would teach kids their letters by singing songs," says Wayne. One day while tutoring a fellow peer, Wayne's father taped him singing a new version of the alphabet song and mailed the tape to 4 My Kids Records. Founded by Steve Amy Grissette in 2001, 4 My Kids Records is a record label that creates quality educational and entertainment products for children, parents and educators. "After hearing the tape, we were blown away by the awesome talent and commitment of such a young kid. It was a no-brainer...we had to sign him." says Amy Grissette, CEO President of 4 My Kids Records. Wayne's debut project entitled, "Read Along With Wayne: What's Your Letter?", will be released January 30, 2005. This hot, new hip-hop flava project is not only a CD but it is accompanied by a beautifully-illustrated storybook and a fun-filled workbook.
