Leah is an Arroues, whose family was one of the pioneering citrus ranch families in Orange County. She comes from an acclaimed heritage of outstanding musicians, artists, educators and philanthropists. One of these is Marcy Arroues-Mulville a key figure in the early years of the Orange County Pacific Symphony and founder of the Music Associates at Cal. State Fullerton. Leah recorded her original song and unique arrangements with Dr. Stan Breckenridge, a United States Fulbright Scholar, professor, recording artist, and Jazz pianist. The combination of Leah's classical training, Stan's Jazz experience, combined with professional musical skills of David Scott who has played guitar for Prince created brilliant compositions. Other talented musicians whose skills added vibrancy to Complements were Jim White, Kelsie Hamilton, Ed Pepper, Diana Gray, Roger Wood, and Eric Marbach. Leah had two CD release parties for Complements. One was at Liberal Latitudes store and art studio in Laguna Beach, and the next evening in Laguna Hills, California. The Orange County Register reported it this way. "Laguna Hills woman is hosting a gala to release her first CD. Leah Michelle Hamilton strives to reach out to others any way she can. As a family therapist, she can get in touch with people everyday while on the job. But through her music, she has found another way to do so. Hamilton goes by a Shakespearean quote, 'If music be the food of love, play on.'" By Alejandra Molina, Staff Writer
