An imaginative compilation of Door County's most gifted recording artists. 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, BLUES: Acoustic Blues Details: 1. KIM WATERS- The Dress Based on the music of a traditional Irish air, Kims haunting rendition shares the story of a mother reminiscing about her daughters life, while sowing her wedding dress. 2. FRED ALLEY- I Know Where Im Going A timeless rendition by Door Countys legendary singer, playwright, and theatre producer. Recorded in 1995 and previously released only on cassette, this version offers new lyrics to an alltime classic. 3. CHRIS ALLEY- Nightingale Chris electric vocal performance tells a stirring tale of a nightclub singer and a salty sailor, with sultry background vocals by renowned Alice Peacock. Recorded in 1995 (in the same batch of sessions as the previous song) and hardly ever heard before, this recording is a gem. 4. JEANNE KUHNS- Isabel A poetic offering about Isabel, the artist, who is a friend of the singer. This song is also the opening number of Jeannes new CD, Lost Moth:Found. 5. MARK RADDATZ- Thought Passing Thru A contemplative song about the meaning of a musicians life on the road, performed with cool understatement and folksy elegance by one of Door Countys true originals. 6. PETE THELEN- Footsteps Poetry and music fused by an electronic underpinning into a hypnotic performance. A dazzling recording that turns Pete into the Beat Poet of Door County! 7. JAY WHITNEY- How Can I Goodbye Inspired by a heart-to-heart exchange between a mother and her son as she faces her mortality. Melodiously shaped and set to a funky groove as only Mr. J can do it. 8. LUCY HAGEN- I'm Gone An intimate sharing about a relationship that has reached its completion. Sad and beautifully sung in an alto cantor. 9. DON THOMPSON- Don't Stop Pickn Don is known by many in Door County for his work with both The Peninsula Players (PumpBoys&Dinettes-1995)and American Folklore Theatre (Old Friends-1997; Sweet Baby James-2000). He wrote Don't Stop Pickn at an earlier time while touring nationally with a well known country band, Ken

Carlyle and the Cadillac Cowboys. 10. JULIAN HAGEN- How Things Change According to Julian, this song is merely a musical reminder. Dont get too comfortable or take things for granted because things keep changing. This is what makes it an adventure and a challenge "Hang on and enjoy the ride while it lasts!" 11. HANS CHRISTIAN- The Water Is Wide (instrumental) This timeless melody, perhaps more than any other, expresses the serene beauty and awe inspiring scenery of our land of Door...
