Trent Reznor with Tits. 8 MP3 Songs POP: Piano, POP: with Electronic Production Details: NLX traffics in unschooled, confessional, piano ballads. - NY TIMES Trent Reznor With Tits! Do we have your attention? Take a listen ... just one hit is enough to hook you on the addiction that is NLX: Natasha Alexandra. The NY Times is already on her case: "NLX traffics in unschooled, confessional, piano ballads." To connect with her music is a rush like no other. Tension, then release ... NLX has been covering her tracks. Rumor has it, she served her time in Hamilton, Ontario - a small steel town where the survivors are the fittest, and the smartest ... those brave enough to escape its desperate clutches. It was on the gritty streets of Toronto that she developed her signature sound ... a potent cocktail infused with Daniel Lanois, Tori Amos and, of course, NIN. Then forays to New York City where 2004's Meat Inspection Tour established her as more than just a girl at a piano. Extraordinary, outstanding, compelling, distinctive and very, very special, is what the Songwriters Hall of Fame cited, showcasing her on their New Writers CD compilation. The latest scoop: The CD release of both NLX: In Your Face and NLX: Behind Your Back, offering up heart-wrenching lyrics and dark piano melodies, but each with it's own distinctive production style. Aggressive is the tone for NLX: In Your Face, co-produced and recorded in Toronto with Byron Wong (Beck, Crystal Method, David Usher). Meanwhile, the sound on NLX: Behind Your Back is more sparse, a product of a collaboration with Chris Brown and Lurch (Kathleen Edwards).
