Bobby McFerrin + Rahzel's lovechild covers pop hits without the lead vocal tracks. 11 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Alternative Hip Hop, POP: Quirky Details: This album is the instrumental version of the album described below. "If you're among the more adventurous hip-hop listeners, then have I got one for you Somaphone 2 by Seattle native (and NYC resident) proGrammar. On it, Grammar sings and beatboxes bugged takes on classics like Stevie Wonder's "Hey Love" and Hall Oates's "I Can't Go For That" and goddammit, it works." -Larry Mizell, Jr., The Stranger, October 2005 "Somaphone 2: Grammar Sings the Classics" by independent hip-hop artist proGrammar (proGrammar.net) is unlike anything you've ever heard before. As the subtitle indicates, "Everything You Hear Here Is Me Beatboxing and Singing." Trained in his youth as a classical singer while simultaneously nurturing a lifelong affection for hip-hop music, the two influences blend together effortlessly in this collection of 11 hip-hop tinged pop classics, produced, recorded and mixed by the artist himself! From hits by Stevie Wonder to The Beatles to Nu Shooz, every single piece of instrumentation in the originals is painstakingly recreated by proGrammar using only the power of his amazing voice, while all the drum tracks are beefed up through the use of the art of beatboxing to reflect a post hip-hop era sensibility. It's soulful; it's funky; it's danceable; it's impressive and inspiring! Buy a copy today!
