A gumbo of styles ranging from soft rock and island to big band and rich ballads, similar in style to Jimmy Buffett. 10 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Soft Rock, WORLD: Island Details: Dr Breeze is Wilk McKean, born and raised in New Orleans, he grew up with the sounds of Dixieland jazz, rhythm and blues, and pop. At the age of nine, his grandfather bought him a trumpet and he learned the basics of music hoping to be the next Al Hurt. In 1963, his life changed forever when he heard The Beatles on the radio. He bought his first guitar at the age of twelve and like the song said "played until his fingers bled". He was playing his first professional gigs by the age of fifteen, and by the time he was legal to play in clubs, he had already played his share of them. He played in groups with names like The Shadows of Eterity, Potter's Field and Bayou. During this time he also had the opportunity to work as a vocalist in some of the area's top recording studios, as well as compiling a nice collection of original music. He also wrote a couple of radio jingles. In 1979, he helped form a group called Flite. This group is still together, still making killer music, and still very popular, aging gracefully on the north shore of Lake Ponchartrain. In 1989, he left the U.S. for a seven year European tour. Living in Germany and England, he played with a couple of German musicians in a trio called The Night Dogs. Eventually, all good things must come to an end and he returned stateside in 1996. Pensacola, Florida looked like a good place to settle. Having traveled to places like Hong Kong, Hawaii, Palma Majorca, Cannes, Cypress and the Caribbean, he considers the area from Gulf Shores, Alabama to Panama City, Florida to have some of the best beaches in the world. He finds it a joy to work and play in the area he calls the Redneck Riviera and is happy to call it home. Now, he is firmly established, enjoying just about all the work he can handle entertaining at private parties, group conferences at some of the area's finest resorts and weddings. He recently finished production on his fourth CD of original music in his studio in Pensacola for his own End of the Road record label. And now you have an opportunity to check out his music for yourself!!
