He practices and promotes The Tao, Tai Chi, Yoga, Native American Spiritualism, and a healthy life style. A former licensed minister and missionary, Drew now practices the way of the Tao, ancient Native spiritualism, transcendental meditation, music therapy healing and harnessing Life force (Qi). In his 20's and 30's he made a pilgrimage to the ancient Native Holy lands of the Western United States to four corners lands and visited many ancient secluded ruins. Experiencing many spiritual rights and teachings, Drew received gifts from the ancients. Drew then traveled to the Ogalaga (Akashik); His Native Tribal Shamanistic Rights and Spiritualism were quantified. He also visited the Native Paradise Tribal land of Havasupai Falls. Drew began Classical/Flamenco guitar lessons at age seven and studied from a graduate of Richard Pick Classical Guitar instruction from Chicago University. Drew also commissioned 6 years of private guitar lessons in Jazz guitar, music theory and progressive styles under guitar instructor T.J. Helmerich (Innovator of eight finger guitar technique) who is now on the Engineering Staff at The Guitar Institute of Technology at The Music Institute in Los Angeles California. Drew is part Native American (Tsalagi) Cherokee. His ethnic blend is a direct influence to his ability to play instruments from around the world. He purchased his first Native American Flute in 1989. He could instantly play it as a professional without a single lesson. Other instruments Drew performs on are the Chinese Hammer Dulcimer, Mandola, Bouzouki, Harp Guitar, bass guitar, keyboards, various world flutes and percussion instruments. "It is a gift from my heritage" states Drew. "I've been called Free Spirit", and "Old Soul" by many since my childhood." "I've been trained by masters of Chinese Herb medicine, the Tao, Kung Fu, Native Spiritualism, and Master teachers of music." states Drew. "Now I return my gifts for the benefit of the people." His release Caribbean Remix is an intimate remix of the songs previously released on Flamenco Salsa. Drew removed the drums and keyboards and kept the Latin Percussion. The Flamenco Guitar Tracks were also re-recorded as well as the Bass tracks with a more ethnic Salsa-Caribbean style. The music contains the same evocative Spanish-Nuevo Flamenco Guitar styles consisting of Spanish, Brazilian, (Salsa), Cuban, Mediterranean, and Rumba influences as well as Romantic ballads. Drew holds a degrees in Sound Engineering, Business Marketing and Music Theory. He is also a Black Belt in Kung Fu. Drew has worked with other world class producers and engineers such as John Herrera, Anna Maria, Edward Edelbrock, and Daniel Eastwood. Drew has also been commissioned for hire as a songwriter, composer, commercial audio composer and film-score soundtrack artist. Drew Diego Bennett tours and records with the finest musicians from around the world such as John Herrera, (Drummer of National Jazz band-Turning Point) Emilio Santiago (Latin Percussionist of World famous 'Esteban's band) Thano Sahnas (Bouzouki Guitar player of National Jazz band- Turning Point) Hai Jung Choi (Korean female bassist) and many others. "My greatest passion is bringing gifted music to the World. Music is the universal language that brings a smile to the face, warmth to the heart and inspires the great flame within."
