Details: Santa Barbara Independent- Sound description: These days, there is no more bizarrely invigorating experience in Santa Barbara than stumbling into Cold Spring Tavern on a lazy Friday night to find Roy Schmeck and the Schmeck-Tones rocking the rickety stage. Dressed in garb thats a mix between Grand Ole Opry duds and honky-tonk, biker-bar scrubs, Roy and his Schmeck-Tonesnamely Eddie Eagle Feather, Arnie Tucker, Lyle B. Hogg, Molly McCoy, and Kitty Bachstrow quite the bluegrass-meets-country rock hoedown. Best of all, they tend to perform in front of a screen with pictures of the band touring the world, hanging with celebrities, and being in the right historical places at the perfect times. Im an ageless legend, explained Roy, whose alter ego Mark, a house painter by day, admitted, Its all fiction, man. He created the legend of Roy after buying a Roy Smeck guitar in 1989, and then started casting Roy Schmeck in home movies, long before the music even started. Visual spectacles and make-believe mojo aside, the Schmeck-Tones have been churning out a steady stream of original tunes for the past three years, and plan to release a CD in the next couple months. Why are so many people buying into the Schmeck-Tones shtick? I think its just happy music, said Roy. Once people see us, they know were about having fun. The band has fun, too.
