With a velvety smooth tenor voice, Stanley Bull will help put you in the mood for meditation. But if you feel like dancing as David did, he can thump the bass a little too. 5 MP3 Songs GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel, HIP HOP/RAP: Spiritual Rap Details: Stanley Bull is an Oakland California native. He began singing at the age of 12. Stanley is a singer, songwriter and musician who has studied voice with the late Phil Reeder, Bill "The Jazz Professor" Bell, and John Patton Jr. (The Color Purple). He traveled to New Orleans and Mexico City with the world renowned Castleers of Castlemont High School. In the summers of 1976 1977, Stanley participated in the Young Musicians Program at U.C. Berkeley under the direction of Michael Senturia, where he studied voice, music theory and composition along side and under the tutelage of such artists as Daryl Coley, Rodney Franklin, Fred "Ready Freddie" Washington and Clayton "Claytoven" Richardson. In 1989, he produced 2 songs for a recording project by the St. Andrew Missionary Baptist Church's album entitled "God Calls For Repentance". It is there that he was blessed by the Lord to learn to play the bass guitar and given the opportunity by the pastor, Dr. Robeth Lacy, to hone this skill with the choir. He has also been featured vocalist as well as bassist and drummer with Aladdin's Lads and Lasses, a unique belly dancing troupe which blends Scottish song and bellydancing with Arabic rhythms and bagpipes. More recently, Stanley has vocally performed with Rev. Al Green, The Academy Chorus under the direction of Richard Herron, gospel recording artist Ricky Dillard, Alfreda Mitchell Success, Reverend James Bolton, Reverend Hezekiah Walker and Verlin Sandles. Stanley has served as musical director with gospel recording artists CMV and currently plays bass at the First African Methodist Episcopal Church in Oakland, California where the minister of music is Jeffrey Williams and the pastor is Dr. Harold R. Mayberry. He released two singles entitled "All These Blessin's" (1999) and "Questions" (2003) Look to hear more wonderful sounds from him.
