Combining a jigger of jazz, a shot of swing, and a splash of space age pop, 3 For The Show mixes a musical cocktail guaranteed to get your fingers snappin' and your toes a-tappin'. 8 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Lounge, JAZZ: Jazz Vocals Details: Singin' Swingin' marks 3 For The Shows CD debut, and is dedicated to all the trios fans who lovingly pestered the group with the following question: Do you have a CD yet? The CD is comprised of eight well-known standards, but there is nothing standard about the groups treatment of the material. Listen closely and you will hear the influences of arrangers like Juan Garcia Esquivel, Billy May, and Dave Lambert in 3 For The Shows work, as well as tributes to great musicians like Charlie Bird Parker, Ella Fitzgerald, and The Manhattan Transfer. The trio understands how much they owe those who have gone before, and make a point of acknowledging the fact with every note they sing. Perhaps the only thing better than hearing their work on a recording is seeing 3 For The Show! live. The group is at heart a song dance trio in the energetic style of a mid-50s Vegas lounge act (think Louis Prima, Keely Smith, Sam Butera the Wildest with choreography and youve got the right idea). Based out of Los Angeles, the trio travels extensively throughout southern California and the southwestern United States, performing for packed houses of hipsters and hep cats, young and old alike. In fact, 3 For The Show! has a universal appeal that is uncommon in an age where the cultural divide between young and old is wider than ever before. Raise the roof for 450 octogenarians at a formal affair? No sweat, says the trio. Shake it up with the new jet set of 20-somethings being seen at the trendiest club in town? Piece of cake, is the groups reply. Whats more, the trios members Tricia, Tracy, and Michael are good people, too. They go out of their way to perform for people who might not otherwise receive any entertainment at all. Ask any member of 3 For The Show! about their most memorable and gratifying show, and youll most likely hear a story about Christmas at a domestic violence shelter, a luau party at a psychiatric lock-down facility, or family night at a center for the severely disabled. Once you've seen the group in action, you'll realize that good times and laughter are what the trio is all about. 3 For The Show! is a song dance trio par excellence, but more than that, they're an outrageous party on wheels and they don't quit until everyone in the joint is jumpin'. Of course, some folks might not be able to catch the trio live because of geographical constraints, so until you can make it to southern California, buy their CD. When it comes in the mail, put it in your player, sit back, close your eyes, and let 3 For The Show! take you on a musical hip trip like no other. 3 For The Show! is: Tracy C. Henry: Vocals, Guitar, Keyboards, Alto Sax, Arrangement, Sequencing Tricia Henry: Vocals Michael Musa: Vocals
