High-energy traditional Cajun dance music as heard in the prairie and bayou country of south Louisiana. 19 MP3 Songs WORLD: Traditional Cajun, FOLK: Traditional Folk Show all album songs: Les Grands Bois (Big Woods) Songs Details: The New Riverside Ramblers are: Eric Mohring: Fiddle and Vocals Bob Nelson: Cajun Accordion Karen Kleinspehn: Rhythm Guitar Doug Lohman: Bass Paul Loughridge: percussion The New Riverside Ramblers' second recording, "Les Grands Bois" (Big Woods), serves up another generous helping of high-energy Louisiana Cajun dance music on fiddle, accordion, guitar, bass, percussion, and French vocals. With Les Grands Bois, the band returns to the roots of their discovery of, and fascination with, Cajun music. Five of the cuts come from the tradition of the late Dewey Balfa and his brothers. We cant help it for a lot of us who have been captivated by this music, it was our first influence, and we keep returning to it says fiddler Eric Mohring. But there are lots of other influences too, he adds. As well as a handful of timeless dance-hall chesnuts, the CD has a collection of way-cool songs and tunes collected from the Balfas, Nathan Abshire, Walter Mouton, Wade Frug, Varise Conner, and other great Cajun musicians of our time and of times past. ALL are played with flair, enthusiasm, and expressive abandon. The members of the band have been immersed in Cajun music for over 20 years, and have studied, performed and recorded with some of the greatest names in the music. Really enjoying your new CD. Solid rhythm section and a lot of Dewey in that fiddle. - Ray Abshire, Lafayette, Louisiana Perhaps one of the best traditional Cajun music bands in Cajun music today... If I did not know better, I would think they were from Kaplan and Mamou!" - Pete Bergeron, KRVS radio, Lafayette, Louisiana. "I'd gladly hitch-hike to Minneapolis to play with them." - Marc Savoy, Eunice, Louisiana.
