Pedro Javier Gonzalez is playing a subtle fusion of Spanish Flamenco, World Music, Jazz and influences of popular music. 11 MP3 Songs WORLD: Flamenco, JAZZ: Jazz Fusion Details: Pedro Javier Gonzalez Musician, born in Barcelona, owner of a distinctive guitar language, ranging from flamenco to a fusion of rhythms in a way that melts the modern with the traditional. Arranger, composer, musician and producer, through time has extended the radius of his artistic desire to fulfil his project by himself. Winner of several awards as a flamenco guitar player, he started traveling around the musical map working with artists like Toti Soler, Joan Manuel Serrat, Angelo Branduardi, Victoria de los Angeles, El Itimo de la fila, Maria del Mar Bonet, Alejandro Sanz and Manolo Garca His abilities as guitar player are emphasized in historical pop recordings from the 80's and 90's. Manolo Garca and Serrat are familiar with Pedro's artistry as arranger and musical producer. In 1992 formed his flamenco band "Arrebato". In 1996 he became a soloist with hits like his compilations of pop-rock classics titled "Guitarra". Making both, personal and artistic growth, he paves the way for the mix vibration with the hit "Callejn del gato", emphasizing his vocation as author of his own particular formula: Jazz-rock, Brazilian airs, love for the South and the silence of the flamenco beat. Music for nomads that do not understand frontiers.
