The song was released onto a summertime hits compilation and shot straight to the top of the charts. That August "Summertime" was released as a single along with 2 other songs "Nieko Panasaus" (an English / Lithuanian cover featuring the author / musical icon Andrius Mamontovas) and "B.U.T.Ful." "Nieko Panasaus" received the coveted Gold Disc Award from the radio station M-1 (the leading private radio station in the country) in September '98. Only four bands had previously achieved that status. In October of '98 Koja Records Group invited Skamp to join their ranks, they signed and started work on their debut "Angata" and not long afterwards received a grant from the Lithuanian Prime Minister. January '99 , they showed up at the annual Radiocentras Awards (voted by the people - 2nd largest radio station in Lithuania) and left with every award they had been nominated for: Best Song ' 98 "Summertime" and Best Debut '98. The next month they were awarded Best Debut ' 98 from the prestigious Bravo Awards (voted by a commission of Industry people). N.B. They had achieved all this without having released an album or having ever toured the country. February ' 99 brought their debut "Angata." That summer they won the Grand Prix Award in Latvia for the 35th "Liepajas Dzintars" festival. It's one of the most respected festivals in the Baltics with bands from all over Europe participating. Later SKAMP won the M-1 Gold Award for the second time for their first ballad "Remember" from their debut album. At the end of '99, after concerts and promo, they presented their 2nd album "Green" to the public at the National Opera and Ballet Theatre accompanied by the National Orchestra. Since the beginning of 2000 they've toured everywhere from clubs to festival venues, have been the first to have a school tour of Lithuania. That year they were awarded "Best Group of '99" and "Best Pop of '99." They then released the remix album "Le Boom Chick" in the summer of 2000 in Lithuania and Latvia (with Microfona rec./ EMI Latvia) which contains remixed songs off of "Angata" and "Green." That year they received: Best Album 2000 "Green" , Best Band 2000 and Vee was awarded Best Producer 2000. They are also one of the favourites to go forward to the Eurovision Song Contest 2001 representing Lithuania with their song "You Got Style." Their singer Erica Jennings solo single "It's a Lovely Day" which was released by Universal Records on a compilation CD is a major hit in Lithuania going number 1 and riding high in the top 5. They went on to win: best Album 2001 Skempinlige, Best Group 2001, Best Song 2001 "You Got Style!," Best Female 2001 in Lithuania. "GREEN" was an album that was very experimental for Lithuania when it was released in 2000. However, it was successful and broke through to many different audience groups and ages. It crossed over boundaries. It's an album thats maybe slightly before it's time, just like SKAMP.
