How much is your time worth to your business? And how much of it do you spend trying to get fresh, new keyword-dense content on your site every single week? What if you could automate all that? Imagine a tool that would: Go out onto the net or spider your own website Collect valuable, bloggable content Post the first part of every page into a blog entry Include links back to your site Ping the search engines Simply put, blogging is the hottest new form of content, and pinging is how you let the search engines and the world know youve got fresh new content posted. Each post contains links back to your site, so when the spiders find the posts they love so, they also find YOUR SITE! AND ITS AUTOMATED !!!
