Entertaining families and audiences of all ages, she reels people in as soon as she speaks her first hello! A multi-album independent recording artist who has established herself as a sought-after performer on the US Folk circuit, KJ's currently touring with many of her projects, and most recently has added music dedicated to farmers and those who love the country life. Proud To Be A Farmer--- KJ's songs of life and love for farms and small towns are being spotlighted through her "Proud To Be A Farmer" CD (as well as several family music agriculture projects) currently being promoted across the US and UK. Her songs touch on such subject matters as love and magic on the farm ("The Tractor Hums" and "Gold"), songs about the frustration in land development ("City Man" and "What's A Farm To Do"), tunes in support of small town ways ("Old Porch Swing" and "Charlie Musser's Store"), music dedicated to her farmer friends in Scotland ("Stranger"), and tribute songs to Pennsylvania farmers and those around the world ("Pennsylvania Farmer" and "Proud To Be A Farmer"). KJ continues to enjoy the stories the farmers share (oftentimes while sitting on top of country store freezers!) A favorite at festivals, conventions, granges and banquets, KJ not only wears her heart on her sleeve in life issues but also includes her audiences in participation...a thoroughly enjoyable time spent singing and laughing. You can find KJ on the web at kjsmile.com "KJ's music embodies the spirit of rural America and our agricultural heritage," says a spokesperson for the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. "She touches the souls of audience members with a pureness of purpose not often found in society today."
