Music from this CD has been featured on NBC's "Passions" and heard in several independent movies. Vocals are angelic, and vary from stark to layered, in contrast to the strong guitar style. Lyrics are both intellectual and interesting: the title track is named after a street in Laurel Canyon; track two is inspired in part by Kahlil Gibran's book "The Prophet"; track seven is a plea for peace. The CD cover and liner notes feature paintings by the artist. Instrumentation includes cello, violin, piano, B3, electric guitar, drums, bass and percussion from accomplished musicians Adam Chester, Charlie Bisharat, Frank Simes, Jorgen Carlsson, and Stefanie Fife. The CD was produced by Steve Holroyd, Bob Sheehan and Nicolette Aubourg. Aubourg was born and educated in South Africa where she studied classical guitar, piano, vocal performance and music theory, and acquired a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology and English.
