Texabama has an energetic sound that is spiced with southern flair and street wisdom. With artists hailing from Texas to Alabama Texabama has the flexibility to encompass the best from the region with crunk party mixes such as Peepin' Me and Representin. 15 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Southern Style, HIP HOP/RAP: Hip Hop Details: In an era of hip hop where style and flash often times overshadow substance Texabama has skillfully toed the line and produced a sound that encompasses the positives of both characteristics. Being the lead group off of the independent label One World Entertainment Group, Texabama has found that their sound has kept the underground jumping since the release of their first street release entitled "Don't Sleep on It". Now Texabama is back to prove all doubters and naysayers wrong and give their fans what they've been waiting for. "Built 2 Last" is the new album from Texabama and with blazing production from Abstract Concepts the new album is definitely a must have for all fans of music. While performing shows across the Lone Star state, Alabama and throughout the southern region Texabama will be burning up the airwaves on college radio stations throughout the South. Along with college radio Texabama will be spreading their sound through the clubs by way of the hottest DJs and the hottest clubs while selling cds from the trunk to posting posters and passing out flyers in various cities and towns throughout the South and southeast on up and around the east coast. Texabama is comprised of members that have each traveled their own road to get to the point where they are now of working together towards the common goal of success. Each member has had the dream of music from early on in their lives be it DeeWayne putting together songs on tapes with his cousin and throwing shows to Tony Mayhem studying his craft in Alabama as a youth and moving to Texas to follow his dreams. T.O.S. grew up in Houston, Texas where his hunger to succeed was only made stronger by the feeble attempts of other artists to hinder his path. Despite different roads the three men have come together to form a bond that only gets stronger as time goes on. While the release of a second Texabama album is a major step for the young record label One World Entertainment Group is out to prove they are not a flash in the pan. With another Texabma album in the works and the release of T.O.S's solo-album showcasing his creavtive skills One World Entertainment Group seems to have their eyes squarely focused on the future. With a stable of hungry artists at the helm these southern musical entrepreneurs should prove to be a mighty staple in the south for years to come. Nothing in life comes easy and anything that's worth having is worth working for and no one understands this more than the members of One World Entertainment Group. With the lessons learned from the first album, Texabama is out to show that they are not a fluke but a force to be taken seriously. While proving their worth through determination and grit Texabama is in it to win it and prove they are built to last while showing they are major players in the game.
