Details: I first met Zander Schloss when working on a now cult film called Repo Man by Alex Cox. My friend Peter McCarthy from Chicago was one of its producers. I had just moved to Los Angeles and helped out videotaping the auditions with my interest in video production just beginning. Zander of course played Kevin and went on to pursue his true passion of music, writing some of the soundtracks of Alex's other films, "Sid Nancy," Straight To Hell as well as acting in them. He is the bass player for one of L.A.'s founding punk bands The Circle Jerks still on tour after these many years. Zander has also written with the late Joe Strummer and Scott Weiland. Zander, originally from St Louis moved to California as a teenager. Having become friends while working on Repo Man in 1984, I reunited with Z when he rented the studio apartment in 1999 over our garage. This was a home my wife and I were renting in Los Angeles. This old Spanish home built in the 1920s has what is very uncommon in L.A. A basement This is where we spent countless hours recording analog tracks on an eight track reel to reel. Zander's command of musical instrumentation and the help of his many friends who contributed both instrumental and vocal tracks over a period of 3 years evolved when we brought the reels to Brian Suskos Westside Recorder Studio. It was there, that editing, mixing and dozens of more tracks were added digitally over the next few years with Brian's fine ear. I moved to Crestline, CA in the San Bernardino Mountains where my wife Viola and I bought a 2 bedroom cabin on an acre of land. I was seeking some peace of mind having been diagnosed with post-traumatic stress. I had served as a Navy Corpsman (medic) with a Marine platoon in Vietnam in 1970. After the wildfires in the fall of 2003, I was never able to regain a sense of safety living somewhat remote in the forest and returned to urban L.A. I finally have completed what has been sitting on all those back burners these many years.. The Gousters. The origin of the name is what I perceive as pre-dating the Grunge" look in Seattle. It was a term we referred to ourselves as of the similar style or non-style of the way we dressed while growing up in Chicago in the 1960s based on Black street slang on the south and westside. The genre is alternative country, americana, a mix of country rock, country ballads. We sincerely hope you enjoy the music.. Walt Cronin Los Angeles, CA
