Beautifully crafted acoustic debut from UK based multi-instrumentalist. Songs of unnerving emotional depth, sporting cellos, trumpets, banjos, antiquated keyboards and the like. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Alternative Folk, BLUES: Folk-Blues Details: Trefor lives in the beautiful city of Sheffield, UK. He was born and brought up in North Wales. In the heady midst of adolescence he learnt to play the guitar and boogie woogie piano. He fell in love with the work of Bob Dylan, Johnny Cash and Billy Bragg and set upon the task of becoming a song writer. He has since played in a dubious array of bands including Roger Love Shaft and the Divas of Kink and a brief spell in a punk band. He has performed as a solo artist for many years in different parts of the UK. Throughout the years Trefor has studied more theology than is healthy and spent a long time hanging round in churches looking earnest. He has recently embarked on a career in teaching. All the while he has unassumingly been learning his musical craft. Age and experience have mellowed this young man into a consummate writer and performer. He has a passion for composing and performing bitter sweet songs. Afraid that he would explode if he didnt start performing again Trefor has returned from the wilderness clutching in his hand an array of beautiful songs that he wants you to listen to. ***** This is a man to watch. In this debut studio album, Sheffield based multi-instrumentalist Trefor Jones dazzles us with his beautifully crafted songs. Ranging from lilting love songs to muscular, harmonica infested blues work outs, what stands out in this record is the unnerving emotional depth of the lyrics, simple but arresting they draw you back and make you listen a second time...." treforjonesmusic.com myspace/treforjonesmusic Produced by Andy Baker (Resound Media)
