She has been involved in music most of her life-studying music and the classical piano, performing in bands, choirs, solo and in dance productions. Instead of concentrating on her own singing career however, she worked in the marketing division of Sony Music and the publicity division of Universal Music, Australia making the dreams of others happen. She helped break major acts such as Travis, Destinys Child, Roger Sanchez, Shakira and Ricky Martin. Her days were spent representing these artists to the media and her nights were filled with song writing sessions and rehearsals! With this exciting lifestyle her own dreams of being a singer took a back seat. Only temporarily! Heidi spent her time songwriting, performing and recording her material and arming herself with the knowledge and experience to become the artist she has now evolved into. She has now taken her career a step further in the UK and has started her own licensing company Heidstar Entertainment and works alongside her partner Havavision Records in helping the dreams of other talented singer/songwriters/rappers to be realised as well as her own. WHO I BE is Heidi's debut album and remixes which reflect her journey of life over the past 4 years. The pain, the growth, her fears of breaking free and pursuing her dreams and as all journeys are faced with a mix of emotions and love, Heidi paints her personal picture of her journey and the love and pain she felt along the way. Co-written mainly with Steve Wellington, a brilliant songwriter/guitarist/producer from London, this writing duo have created some future classics. They are set to head back into the studio later this year to complete Heidi's new album. Get ready for something new and real. Heidi has a unique soulful style with sultry vocals and moving, touching lyrics based on her own life experiences. Her songs reflect subject matters that are close to her heart and all have a positive message.
