Details: Lisa Reagan's most recent album release ARCANA, on her independent label Stillpoint Records, captures your imagination and stirs your spirit, with stunning vocal leads, sweeping cinematic orchestration, and masterful ethnic and rhythmical instrumentation. ARCANA'S songs, such as "The Huntress", Long Ago and Far Away and Roses and Ivy, invite you to touch the forgotten world of lost mythical archetypes and ancient mysteries. ARCANA simply means secrets known only to the initiates

Lisa and Stillpoint Records began this project over two years ago, traveling to and from Nashville to her Belvoir studio in Virginia. Lisa collaborated with long time friend and record producer Paul Buono, who worked on her first album Satori, along with and many world-class musicians and lyricists. Stillpoint Records plans to launch and aggressively promote ARCANA internationally with the help of a PBS Special, with future plans of a US and European tour in the works. Lisa Reagan is a veteran performer, a diversely talented composer, producer and recording artist. Although she enjoys working on her solo career, Lisa also co-writes with local talent, producing and developing their musical vision through her own record label Stillpoint Records. She founded Satori Productions, Inc., her independent music production company based in Middleburg, Virginia, for that sole purpose. Lisas debut CD "Satori" the Zen Buddhist's way of describing "a sudden awakening and profound understanding"-- takes you on a journey into the artist's mind and heart. With an angelic voice that combines the sensitivity of Loreena McKennitt, and the sensual timelessness of Lisa Gerrard, Lisa weaves her poetic lyrics and mystical chants with driving rhythms and haunting melodies. Satoris music is a portal to another world of limitless spirituality and artistic possibilities, spanning both culture and time. For Lisa, a lifelong love of musical expression was born with her first piano lessons at the age of 4--and has evolved many times since. With her amazing ability to hear and compose cinematic melodies, Lisa has had the opportunity to compose and arrange for several films and soundtracks. During her lifelong pursuit of musical performance, Lisa has sung at the Kennedy Center, the White House, and countless concert halls across the U.S. and abroad. For the past fifteen years Lisa has performed at many prestigious events around Washington DC and has been a resident member of the acclaimed Washington National Opera.
