Common ground where the Dixie Chicks and Toby Keith can bury the hatchet. A reminder that "America" used to be a magic word. 1 MP3 Songs in this album (2:26) ! Related styles: FOLK: Political Folk, COUNTRY: Americana Details: From: Uncle B To: Y'all Re: Marvin Sinclair Hi there. Got something special for you. I first heard Marvin at a small private gathering. As a music show host on a local radio station for over twenty years, the appeal of his music was immediately obvious to me. I was finally able to convince him to record it in '02, but not allowed to release it. Since then, I have developed an alternative energy technology to replace fossil fuels, while removing carbon dioxide and other pollutants from the atmosphere. In need of funding, Marvin has consented (reluctantly) to allow me to release some of this material, to help implement this and several other game changing technologies. In appreciation of his willingness to help improve this world, I would only ask that you respect his work and support these efforts by telling your friends to download their own copies from cdbaby.net. As more material becomes available over the next few months I think you will discover what a treasure this music holds for us all. The only sad part is that Marvin laid his guitar down after the recording session and has not played since. I'm hoping that if enough people recognize his gift, maybe we can change his mind. Sincerely, Uncle B
