Adventurous yet highly accessible modern jazz from the Michael Ross Quartet, featuring Michael Ross; bass, David Pate; saxophone, LaRue Nickelson; guitar, Walt Hubbard; Drums 12 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Bebop, JAZZ: Jazz Fusion Details: "The Michael Ross Quartet might signify the best kept secret in modern jazz" Glenn Astarita, All Music Guide "Marvelous; Don't listen to this while driving; the accelerator foot will involuntarily press toward the floor. An adventurous yet highly accessible powerhouse jazz outing" Dan McClenaghan, All about Jazz" Formed in 1999, the MRQ features Michael Ross on bass, David Pate on saxophone, LaRue Nickelson on guitar, and Walt Hubbard on drums. The Quartet released their debut, Doghouse, in 2000, and their followup effort, Dog Eat Dog, in 2002. The CDs were met with critical acclaim and made the playlists on several radio stations around the world. Michael Ross Quartet's latest CD, Year of the Dog, released in December 2004, pushes the envelope of straight ahead jazz, world music, and other American genres. Ross and Nickelson are skilled composers on their own, but in this arena of four accomplished musicians performing exclusively original material, their music is interpreted masterfully
