With this CD we wanted to emphasize the Tropical influence mixed with Spellbound's own "Sound of Los Angeles." Imagine the climate here as warm and sunny and the atmosphere is a fun and soulful party. Like la playa at la puesta del sol...Para los bailadores both young and old...Where the old school soul spins with the Rumba...and oh, for you funk survivors, "you can funk here!" Tropicalifornia is the place you head to at the end of the day when la hora arrives. When you are and where you wanna stay because it's where your love sweet love remains. Let me hear you sing, "Too much of a good thing is never enough!" and dance like you just don't care anymore! Well, we tried to make both the recording process and the arrangements as "organic" as we could make it. Opting for chemistry instead of computers. Keeping one to two take performances instead of overdubbing. Relying on the strength of the songs and the performers instead of studio manipulations. There is plenty of modern technology to ensure that the quality of the sound is what's to be expected in today's world music market. So, enjoy your visit in Tropicalifornia. Dance to the music, visualize the atmosphere, sip your drink, let your imagination run wild and stay a while. Until the next time...
