Article writing is one of the best ways that you can grow your internet business. If you are a newbie I suggest that you first focus on this method before attempting other methods as this is the easiest one to get right. Now let us look at the reason why this method works so well. As the famous sales trainer Jeffrey Gitomer once said people only buy from other people that they like, know and trust. With article writing there is a very good chance that people would have read several of your articles before subscribing to your newsletter. Consequently this means that they trust you before you even have their email address. I suggest that you read that statement again and realize how profound it is. This is the key to getting people to buy from you. You can build a very big list of tens of thousands of subscribers, but if you cannot get them to trust you then it will be very unlikely that you will get them to buy anything from you. This is the difficult part to get right if you are using other methods of advertising like PPC or ezine advertising. It is this that prevents many newbie marketers from succeeding using other methods of advertising. Another very significant factor that will prevent a newbie marketer from succeeding with article writing is that they want everything to be perfect from the start and subsequently they never take any concrete action. Start writing even if you are terrible. When you start seeing a trickle of money you will be even more motivated. If your website is ugly it does not matter as you can improve it as you go along. Finally, the key to succeeding is taking massive action. If you make it more complicated than that then you are making excuses. Are you really interested in driving massive traffic to your website? Download your eBook now.
