A lot of Internet Marketing leaders and gurus alike preach the importance of drawing TARGETED traffic to your web site AND having a GOOD offer. Agree? But if you have already accomplished the above mention - and are still not making another dime OR the money you SHOULD be making... newflash: You Are One Sales Letter Away From Wealth! Didnt expect such a small variable to make a HUGE impact to your income and livelihood, huh? Well Here is the thing: regardless of whatever product you are selling online - whether its physical goods, digital products, or even a service you are trading away with your expertise - you need to be able to sell. Period. In other words, you need to be convincing to your prospects. You cannot just whip up a page with a picture of your product, listing its features and its price, and be done with it. This is the reason why many products with sales letters sell better as opposed to catalog business models anytime of the day! When Your Prospects Visit Your Web Site, They Will More Than Likely Have The Following Questions In Mind... 1. Hmm... why should I buy this product/service? 2. What can you or your product do for me? Can it solve a problem, or help me fulfill something I want to achieve? 3. Okay, but why should I buy from YOU, not somebody else? 4. So whats in it for me? 5. Why should I pay at the price you are asking? Am I going to get more value for money? 6. Plus a host of other important questions! And unless you can answer your Prospects questions and concerns satisfactorily, your chances of closing the sales are close to none! And I Suspect Thats Where The Problem Really Lies In... ...
