Details: The following liner notes for this album were written by Lance LeRoy, legendary bluegrass historian and booking agent for bluegrass bands including Lester Flatt Nashville Grass, Jimmy Martin, Bluegrass Cardinals and Gillis Brothers: Having been privileged to obtain an advance cassette copy of this new collection of dynamic recordings by Georgias Larry and John Gillis, I settled back to listen and enjoy it. And enjoy it I did as my mind drifted back in time to the 1940s and early 1950s when the powerful signal of radio station WCKY in Cincinnati brought me much happiness in the form of the greatest recorded country and bluegrass music ever played. Host Nelson Kings big, friendly voice carried loud and clear to millions of listeners from the Florida Keys to South Texas and seemingly everywhere else from 8:05 until midnight Eastern time, Monday through Friday at the 1350 spot on our old RCA Globetrotter receiver. The Gillis Brothers Hard Driving Bluegrass Band includes bassist Andy Dye and fiddler Owen Saunders. The groups growing repertoire of their own song material adheres rigidly to the mountain style that is hauntingly reminiscent of bands such as West Virginias Lonesome Pine Fiddlers and Virginias Stanley Brothers. For a few memorable minutes the Gillis Brothers recalled my youth when mostly southern-born country boys were recording raw, unpretentious bluegrass music, much of which is now viewed as masterpieces that will continue to endure. The Gillis Brothers plaintive, soulful music is a classic study in purity, sparseness and intensity that captures the rapt attention of many audiences for whom they entertain each year.
