A sweet mixtures of Rhythm Blues, Smooth Jazz, and Soul. 12 MP3 Songs URBAN/R&B: Soul, JAZZ: Smooth Jazz Details: Marcus Lashah was born and raised in E. St. Louis, IL. In keeping with the rich musical tradition of musical pioneers who were also from E. St. Louis, IL (Mile Davis, Phil Perry, The McCoys, and many more) (Marcus is the great-nephew of the late great George McCoy), he seemed destined to follow in the footsteps of the harmonies of sounds of his surroundings. He started acquiring his music library at the age of 7 and by the age of 18 had amassed over 700 LPs, 45s, and Cassettes of a wide range of musical artist. At the age of 12, Marcus started requesting musical instruments for his Christmas Presents (Acoustics and Electric Guitars, Basses and Drums). He took to playing the drums more than the bass and guitar, as a drummer he use to mimic the playing style of Peter Criss and Neil Peart. At 13 yrs old, he joined a local church choir, where he sang lead on a couple of gospel songs. The next 5 years of his musical appetite consisted of trying to master the art of writing poetry and lyrics. While in the military living in Heidelberg Germany, he began playing keyboards. Though never mastering the keyboard like he did with poetry and Drums, he because to realize that the keyboard gave him the ability to be musically independent (because of the vast amount of patches or internal instrument sounds available in sound modules and keyboard). On this project Demented Love, he was able to record, perform, compose, arranged, mix and master the entire project himself. With 16 years of unleashed musical material, Im so glad that this is just the beginning of his musical journey that he intends on sharing with world.
